Prof. H. Clark Tahyer Receives Sad Intelligence by Wire Today

Mr. and Mrs. H. Clark Thayer received a telegram today from their daughter-in-law to the effect that their son George Thayer had been killed in Fort Worth, Txas, on Thursday last.

No details of the sad happening were contained in the telegram and Prof. Thayer immediately wired for particulars and asked to have the body sent to Clearfield for burial.

Georg Thayer was about 35 years of age and was a resident of our town for about a year. Besides his parents and two sisters he is survived by a widow and little daughter.

PLAN BIG SCIENCE MEETING

New York, Dec. 16.—The knowledge acquired by thousands of men of science toiling in every field of human interest will be placed before the public during the Christmas holidays. For five days, beginning December 26, the members of the American association for the Advancement of Science, a body which includes nearly 10,000 of the foremost scholars of the United States, will hold its annual convention in this city. In conjunction with the convention of the parent organization there will be meetings of a score or more of affiliated scienitific bodies. At these meetings the leaders in their respective fields of science will deal with the latest discoveries, developments and theories in botany, mdicine, mathematics, astronomy, economics, etc.

It is announced that the coming gathering will probably prove the largest and most important scientific meeting ever held in America or elsewhere. The program announces addresses by 500 specialists in various fields. Their subject matter will be equivalent to a dozen university educations compressed into five days.

The American Association for the advancement of science is one of the oldest scientific organizations in the country. It was formed in Philadelphia in 1840 by a few geologists and neutralists. There were then 150 members. In recent years the scope of the association has been extended to embrace practically all fields of science.

A LETTER

The Progress,
Clearfield, Pa.
Gentlemen:

Returning from the mountains, the tenderfoot editor, as referred to in the sisue of the 14th, notices that he was the subject of an item of news telling of the spike that got away because there was no shell in the gun barrel. We wil close this indictment with an acknowledgement of guilt and throw ourselves on the mercy of the court of hunters and having seen a like case this season we know just what the punishment will be and stand humbly bowed to the east to receive our punishment in the west.

In retaliation, however, permit us to add that we know a certain pot hunter who has had journalistic aspirations for several years, who was so dern sure he would get a buck that he auth 'zed publication of a statement th: he already had one. The hunting s son is over; the 'orn of the 'unter s no longer 'eard in the 'ills and the pseudo hunter-editor has not even seen a spike yet.

TH T TENDERFOOT EDITOR.

HUNTING MISHAP ON LAST DAY OF DEER SEASON

W. H. Overdorf, DuBois Architect, Shot in Leg by John Rupert, Fellow Hunter,

LEG SHATTERED BY BULLET

The only accident reported among Clearfield county deer hunters occurred in the woods near Medix run Friday, the victim being W. H. Overdorf a well known DuBois architect. It appears that Overdorf and a companion named John Rupert were trailing a deer near the headwaters of Medix Run. Overdorf was a few feet ahead of Rupert when in some unaccountable manner the latter's gun was discharged, the bullet a 38-55 soft nose, passing through Overdorf's leg just above the ankle, badly shattering the leg.

The jniured man was brought to the DuBois hospital last evening where the doctor's removed a portion of the shattered bone, and if complications do not arise they expect to be able to save the leg.

HUNTED GAS LEAK WITH A MATCH AND FOUND IT

Resultant Explosion Wrecked Building, Stock and People in Stores Affected

THREE DAMAGE SUITS PENDING

On March 11, 1916, gas was discovered leaking in the cellar of the building at the corner of Long avenue and Main street, DuBois. The building contained several store rooms and the tenants promptly notified the landlord, A. P. Way. Mr. Way in turn called up the plumbing establishment of E. M. Webster & Co. and asked them to send a plumber down to repair the leak. The plumber went down to the cellar and still hunted th leak with a match. It is needless to add that he found it. The resultant explosion blew out the front of the building and raised the devil generally with the interior and the persons therein.

The first department and several physicians immediately rushed to the rescue and assisted in putting the fire out and repairing the physical damage.

The building was promptly restored to its previous condition of wellbeing and then owner Way brought suit against Webster & Co. for $6,000 damages, alleging that the wreck and subsequent loss was due entirely to the gross neglect and carelessness of the employe of the plumbing establishment. This suit is on the trial list for next week's court.

This morning James A. Gleason, Esq., filed a suit with Prothonotary against E. W. Wesbter & Co., on behalf of Charles Martin, of the firm of Green & Martin, one of the tenants in the damaged building, in which Mr. Martin seeks to recover $5.000 damages for shock and personal injuries received in the explosion, which wrecked the building and demolished his store.

At the same time Mr. Gleason also filed a similar suit on behalf of L. M. McIntosh, who also occupied a room in the building, as an ice cream parlor and confectionary store. In this suit $3,000 damages are asked for because of destruction of fixtures and because of loss incident to three month's loss of business while waiting for repairs to the building.

LIFE INSURANCE IN ITS RELATION TO BOOZE

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company was born and brought up in Milwaukee among the Brewers, leaving that class alone. Undoubtedly the Northwestern has more insurance in the state of Wisconsin than any other three companies put together, and is popular the world over. It is the largest American Life Insurance Company in the world.

This company only write insurance on a select class of men in the healthful part of the United States and does not write insurance on the lives of men handling liquor in any capacity. Wholesale or retail, not even a brewer or anyone connected with a brewery.

This company would be very apt indeed to turn the man down who is in the habit of "Setting them up".

It is believed by many that it will soon become the largest Life Insurance company in the world.

BRANDON HOME AT CHESTER HILL REAL "FENCE"

County Detective Jeffries Unearths Wagon Load of Loot and Makes Arrests

HEARINGS BEING HELD TODAY

Following the arrest of Willis Brandon and his sister Luella and David Bryant at Chester Hill, charged with the stealing of Walter McKendish's cow, mention of which was made in the Progress at the time, the authorities about Philipsburg started an investigation which led them to believe that the Brandons and their gang knew something regarding the many jobs of stealing that had been pulled off in that section the past year.

District Attorney Welch was appraired of these suspicions and he directed County Detective Jeffries to make an investigation. With his usual thoroughness the county detective went to work and soon had a mass of evidence against the Brandons and several alleged accomplices.

A search of the Brandon home in Chester Hill revealed the fact that it was a veritable "fence" for the reception of stolen goods, as the officers discovered more than an auto truck load of plunder concealed about the premises. The goods found consisted of carbide, dynamite, percussion caps, clothing, revolvers, safety razors and many other articles stolen from different places in that neighborhood the past several months.

The county detective and Secretary Green of the Philipsburg Chamber of Commerce went before Squire Duncan in Chester Hill and had warrants issued for Willis, Albert and Luella Brandon, Harry Davis and David Bryant and the five prisoners were given a hearing before Justice Finnegan this afternoon and were sent to jail in default of bail for February tefm of criminal court.

Davis and Brandons live in Clearfield county while Bryant lives in South Philipsburg.

RAISE FOR GLASS WORKERS

Eight thousand workmen employed in the company's plants in Pennsylvania, Indiana and several other States are benefited by the raise.

Begins to Look Like Real Peace Move on Part of Central Powers

Count Von Bernstorff Notifies Secretary of State Lansing, That Kaiser is Ready to Submit Terms to a Conference

Washington, Dec. 16 —(By United Press) Germany stands ready to give the allies a full statement with regard to terms of a peace conference is held. This statement was made officially by County von Bernsdorff following a visit to Secretary of State Lansing today Bernsdorff may be told not know officially that these terms are, but that they would be given freely to the Entente powers at any conference to be held. At this time Germany is also ready to discuss disarmament and all other subjects kindred to peace which may arise in the conference, Bernsdorff stated. He spoke of this country's intention not to add a suppliment to the Germany proposal at this time. While Bernsdorff refused to talk of this government's plans German authorities here are not discouraged in any way by the fact that America will not offer a suggestion. "President Wilson has left the way open" and hence we are encouraged by the act.

The British embassy has advised the foreign office that the return of a flat refusal to Germany's peace proposal will alter neutral opinion, it was learned. It was also stated that the Russian and French embassies also forwarded the same advice to their foreign offices.

A MONSTER APPEAL

When the Pardon Board meets on Wednesday of next week to take up the appeal for a hearing in the cases of Henry Ward Mottarn and Ernest Haines, the two Jefferson county lads condemned to die during the week of January 22nd, for the murder of young Haines' father, it will be flooded with petitions from prominent men and women all over the state. It is believed that these earnest petitions will have weight with the board and that a hearing will be granted. With the rehearing granted it is to be hoped that the board will proceed to recommend that a commutation of sentence be granted. It would be a blot on the fair name of the state to exact the penalty imposed by law in these cases. There is no question in regard to the guilt of the boys; in fact one acknowledged that he committed the deed. It is their youth and proven reform mentality that call for the granting of the commutation. It would not be of any value to society to send these boys to the chair. In fact it would prove an injury. Throughout this section, so near to the scene of the crime, there exists a feeling that the board should show mercy, and that the punishment would be sufficiently severe if the sentences were commuted to life imprisonment. —DuBois Courier.

OUR DUTY TO BELGIUM

At a time when millions are being spent for seasonal exchange of good will, and when the usual wassail and good cheer in our easygoing and extravagant American manner will amount to millions more, it is certainly worth while for us to look into our debt account with suffering Belgium. We have done so little there, as a matter of hard fact, that it is about time we looked the situation in the face, especially now that the slave-raid policy of Germany is likely to make the whole question of relief a very complicated one, and, as a result, is likely also to check the somewhat small driblets of aid that have been coming from this side.

In view of the hideous situation the great indignation meeting in New York yesterday was the least we could do to voice our moral reprobation of what the principal speaker, James M. Beck, caled the "damnable infamy" that is perpetrating "the slow murder of a great and noble people." But, in addition to this expresion of our horror of Germany's crime against humanity, we should not forget in these pre-Cshistmas days that out of a total of $1,000,000,000 spent for Belgian relief we have contributed only $10,000,000, thought out of the general Belgian fund the foreign relief commitee spent $125,000,000 in this country for Belgian supplies, conditioning a part of that export trade prosperity upon which we have been priding ourselves.

It is true that American women here and in Europe have sacrificed much, and American men, such as Mr. Hoover and his associates, acting as distributors of the Belgian relief, have done much more individually; but as we read of the unparalleled sufferings of Belgium these wintry days, we should not forget that we still owe its people something more than a mere word of sympathy, if we do our duty by them, as we should. And the sympathy should be of the pocket-touching kind.—Public Ledger.

SAYS BODY IS A POISON FACTORY

Urges Everyone to Drink Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentaary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomain-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

Five thousand dollars spent in five years for civic improvement is the record of the Woman's Commercial club of Beloit, Kas., an organization of fewer than 200 women in a town of less than 3500 population.

EXPERT'S ADVICE FOR AUTO OWNERS

Queries and Replies Covering Matters of Importance To the Man Who Runs a Car.

By what test can I determine whether there is a current passing to my batteries without the aid of an ammeter, and when the ammeter is not working how can I determine whether the trouble is in the ammeter or whether it is because there is no current passing through it or whether the generator is doing its work or not?

Disconnect one of the wires and make and break the circuit with it; if a spark is noticed on the break current is flowing. This test may be used on all sorts of electrical circuits, even on a single worn out dry cell. If the system has a cut-out and it works properly current is flowing.

You can determine whether current is flowing or not by the method just described. If current is flowing the trouble must be in the ammeter. If the defect is internal the instrument must be returned to the manufacturer, but sometimes the trouble is simply a broken or loose connection or a stuck hand. In the latter case tapping the instrument may cure the defect.

Can you tell me if there is any injurious effect of gum camphor on a motor?

Very little is known on this subject, but the general opinion is that it does not give any increase in power and, further, has a tendency to carbonize the motor.

My car has developed a grinding noise that sounds a little like engaging gears without the clutch pedal being depressed. I have had the mechanic at the service station work on it after I had tried, but gained nothing. The noise is only made while running at eight and seventeen miles per hour. There is no noise when the engine is idling, as far as I can learn. I have adjusted the starter chain many times and am satisfied that the trouble is not there. Could it be a timing gear loose or the clutch shaft bearing worn?

It seems likely that the spigot bushing in the gear box is worn. If this is true a new gear and shaft in which the bushing is mounted must be obtained. There is also the possibility that the noise is carried forward from the rear end. The axle shafts may be loose or a wheel may be a little bit wabbly.

When running at the rate of about eighteen or nineteen miles an hour the transmission of my car makes a grinding noise as though it does not mesh correctly, but when running below or over that speed the noise stops. Can you tell me what causes this?

See that all the gear set bearings are tight; this may be determined by grasping the shafts in the hand and shaking them. Be sure that there is plenty of grease in the gear box. Finally, if you find nothing out of order in the gear box, look elsewhere, because the sound may travel from one part to another.

Will you please explain the difference between single, dual, two spark, double and duplex ignition?

Single ignition means that there is but one source of current supply, either dry cells, storage battery or magneto. Dual ignition embodies two current sources, such as magneto and dry cells, but only one set of spark plugs. Two spark ignition means that there are two spark plugs, operating simultaneously in each cylinder. Double ignition consists of two entirely independent ignition sets so that the complete removal of one would not interfere with the operation of the other. The commonest example is the high tension magneto and a battery ignition outfit, each supplying its own set of plugs. Two magnetos or two battery ignition systems with individual sources of energy would also come within the definition. Duplex ignition is a special form of dual; it comprises a magneto for running, with a battery as an aid just for starting. It is designed especially for very heavy automobiles and marine motors where the cranking speed is too slow for the generation of a spark by the magneto. This battery system is not intended for continuous operation.

Can you give me a recipe for making rim paint to keep the tires from sticking to them?

Paint the rims with a paste made by mixing graphite with gasoline.

What is the maximum pressure in cylinders, compression sixty-five pounds? What per cent would we gain if we doubled the compression without any increase in gas or mixture?

Undoubtedly you mean the maximum explosion pressure, which might be as much as 450 pounds, although this would vary with conditions. Doubling the compression pressure would also approximately double the explosion pressure. Your question is a purely academic one, as you must realize that in actual practice doubling the compression would cause preignition. In other words, before the compression had reached its maximum the intense heat generated by the high pressure would be sufficient to precipitate combustion. Thus this compression could not be used unless the motor was supplied with a fuel injector instead of a carburetor, in which case the combustion could not start until the fuel was brought into contact with the air.

Washington, D. C, Dec. 16.— The President and Mrs. Wilson on Monday next will round out the first year of their wedded life. The marriage was performed at the home of the bride and was followed by a honeymoon visit to Hot Springs, Va. No plans have been made at the White House for a celebration of the anniversary. MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney reginon, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours tongue is coated and when the wather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

BIKERS READY FOR SIX-DAY GRIND

New York, Dec. 16.—Just one minute after the mystic hour of twelve tomorrow night, a pistol shot will start a dozen sturdy-limbed cycle racers on their six-day grind around the steep oval saucer track in Madison Square garden. It will be the 24th annual renewal of New York's big cycling event and from present indications it is likely to equal any of its predecessors in the matter of speed and thrills.

The field this year includes nearly all of the familiar old heroes of the six-day races, with a sufficient number of newcomers to add an element of uncertainty to the results. Picked as the favorite team are Grenda and Goullet, who won this year's event at Boston and also pulled down first money in the New York contest of three years ago. Other contestants whose names are familiar to all patrons of the sport will include Walthour, Noren, Root McNamara, Wiley, Lawson, Kaiserf, Cameron, Drebach, Egg and Ohrt.

The prizes this year are the richest ever offered for the six-day event. States worth $15,000 will be distributed. The winning team will get $5,000, the second team $3,000, third money will be $2,000, and the remainder will take the form of special prizes for sprints of one to ten miles during the progress of the race. In addition to prizes some of the riders are paid bonuses and, taking it all in all, it will be a very profitable week for them.

"BEHIND THE LINES"

Harry Carey will make this third appearance as a Bluebird star in "Behind the Lines," a military drama, to be exhibited at the Opera House tonight with Edison Johnson supporting him as leading lady of a numerous company Mr Carey's work in "The Three Godfathers" and "Love's Lariat" earlier Bluebirds will be well remembered; but in "Behind the Lines" he discards "schaps" and spurs to assume the role of an Army surgeon who falls in love with his head nurse and complicates matters to a serious degree Apart from the gripping interest the love story involves, the stirring encounters between cavalry forces, massed attacks by large bodies of infantry and the many scenes incident to martial times will provide elements of excitement and sensationalism to thrill the spectator while Cupid is waging a less strenuous warfare "Behind the Lines"

"A TORTURED HEART"

Rev Joseph Lorimer lives alone in the rectory with his sexton, Samuel He has never stopped mourning the death of his fiancee One night when he was offering up his accustomed prayer for her, a woman looks in the window of the rectory. When she sees the minister in prayer she vanishes. A few moments later the minister goes to the door On the porch is a bundle containing a small girl baby The minister and Samuel care for the baby with the assistance of Liza, a colored mammy

The next day, the body of the baby's mother was found on the beach. The minister christens the baby, naming for "Margery" after his dead love and "Annan' from the body of water in which her mother was found

In the parish there is only one person who looks upon the minister's act with sympathy This is Miss Darrell, a wealthy spinster She offers her fortune that the girl might be brought up properly Margery acquires a good education The minister sends her to a professor of French, Leon Caussubere This man is in reality a gambler and a crook, who has been mixed up in a shooting affaffir In getting away he wounds a man, who swears revenge

Bob Saunders, a young fellow who lives in the same town, of good family and some talent as a painter, is in love with Margery But when he proposes she refuses him Leon pays a visit to the town His attentions to Margery are disapproved of by both the minister and Miss Darrell Indignant to think that a stranger interferes, Leon goes to Miss Darrell's house While waiting, he takes a letter from a private desk This reveals that Miss Darrell is Margery's mother. Leon again approaches Miss Darrell, extorts money and forces her to keep silent. Margery elopes with Leon. Bob Saunders goes to Miss Darrell to break the news. Hysterically she confesses to the minister and Bob. Leon enters upon a dbauch Margery is neglected In a poker game one night Leon again comes face to face with the man he had shot in a previous affair. He makes his escape but is followed by a band of enraged men who surround him on the top of a mountain after a long chase. He is thrown over the side and dashed to pieces on the rock below. Margery, ignorant of his death, writes to the minister and asks him to take her back When the news of Leon's death is broken to her, Margery turns to her mother. All the love in her nature is lavished upon the woman who has sacrificed everything in life for her. Later Margery marries Bob.

WHAT "THE MOST BEAUTIFUL AMERICAN" THINKS OF NIGHT LIFE IN A CABARET

Mrs Leonard M. Thomas, of New York and Newport, described as "the most beautiful American" has blossomed forth as a poet of no mean ability, and in her first book, just published, she tells what she thinks of night life in a cabaret. One piece of verse, "Thoughts After an Hour Spent in a Cabaret," contains this.

I have invited you
To dance.
Oh, listen to the music
Swell and prance
Amidst the wattled glamour
of disease
That roars and rattles
Like a can of peas.
Come! Come! my blonde,
And hold me very tight,
So that I'm sure your sense
is very faint and light,
Then we will jog together,
Thigh to thigh,
Until the floor splits
And the air is high
With mouldy powder
And wine of wine.
Until my breath is yours
And your breath mine

Life's a madhouse
Where we reel and prance
And—I—I have invited you
To dance

Lesson XII.—Fourth Quarter, For Dec. 17. 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Rev. xxi, 1-4, 22-27—Memory Verses, 3, 4—Golden Text, Rev. xxi, 3—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The topic of this lesson is "The Holy City," but only the first two verses and the last verses refer to the city Verses 3 and 4 refer to this earth when it shall be a New Earth wherein dwelleth righteousness (verse 1; II Pet. iii, 13, Isa. lxv, 17, lxvi, 22). Only in these four passages do we read of the new earth, and it is possible that the passages in Isaiah refer to the millennial earth when the devil shall be bound in the bottomless pit for a thousand years (Rev. xx, 1-6), while the other two may refer to the ages beyond the millennium.

The time will come when this earth, so long cursed by sin and Satan, shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, and the nations shall learn war no more (Num. xiv, 21; Isa. ii 4; xi, 9, Hab. ii, 14; Mic. iv, 3). A king shall reign in righteousness, and the result will be peace, quietness and assurance forever (Isa. xxxii, 1, 17). The way in which God will bring this all to pass it so plainly written that only those who refuse to believe that God means what He says can fail to understand it. Following the letters to the churches of last week's lesson, we see in chapters iv and v the completed church gone from the earth to be with Christ in glory, and we do not find the church again in the book till we come to the marriage of the Lamb in chapter xix and then the return of Christ in glory, as the rider upon the white horse, accompanied by all the armies in heaven, to bind the devil, send his associates to the lake of fire and set up His millennial kingdom of righteousness.

The church being taken away, we have in chapters vi to xviii, inclusive, an account of the great day of the wrath of the Lord, of which the prophets have so much to say—the time of tribulation such as never was and never will be again (Dan. xii, 1; Jer. xxx, 7; Matt. xxiv, 21; Rev. xvi, 18, 19), which the Lord shall put an end to by His coming in glory. In those days the nations shall gather under one leader against the Lord and against His people Israel (Rev. xiii, 4-8; xvii, 12-14), and this leader shall be worshiped by all the world, all whose names are not in the book of life, and he shall be the devil incarnate, the antichrist No such person is yet in sight, and there is as yet no nation of Israel against whom they will gather, but many things may develop from the present European conflict.

After the church shall have been taken and the tribulation begun a great multitude from all nations shall be saved who are said to come out of the great tribulation (Rev. vii, 14, R V.). Many of these may have to seal their testimony with their blood. Then in chapters vii, 1-8; xiv, 1-5, we read of 144,000 of the twelve tribes of Israel who are neither the church of chapters iv and v nor the tribulation saints of chapter vii, but just what they are said to be—sealed ones of the tribes of Israel who will have their own place in the kingdom. By the judgments of the tribulation period this great age shall close and a new age begin, with Jesus Christ as Israel's Messiah on the throne of David, as we shall see in our next lesson. Then He shall begin His reign, which has not yet begun, for He is on His Father's throne, waiting for the time when He shall come to His own throne and reign till He shall have put all enemies under His feet. The last enemy to be destroyed will be death (Rev iii 21; I Cor. xv, 25, 26).

From Isa. lxv, 20,22, it looks as if there would be death during the millennium, but not as now, for one dying then at the age of 100 will be said to die in childhood, and many may live right through, but in the new earth after the thousand years, when the tabernacle of God shall be with men and He shall be as familiar with men on earth as He was with Adam and Eve in Eden, then on this earth there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain, and there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it, and His servants shall serve Him" (chapters xxi, 3, 4, xxii, 3-5)

Now, as to the holy city, the new Jerusalem the bride, the Lamb's wife, which shall need no light of sun or moon, because the glory of God and the Lamb shall be the light of it and in the light of which the saved nations of earth shall walk and shall bring their glory and honor into it (xxi 2, 9-11 22-26). I can only gaze and gaze and wonder and adore until I shall find myself dwelling in it as my eternal home It is described as to its form a perfect cube, 1500 miles long and broad and high (verse 16), reminding us of the holy of holies in the tabernacle and in the temple each of which was a perfect cube in form and in which there was no light but the glory of God above the mercy seat between the cherubim What may be signified by foundations garnished with all manner of precious stones walls of diamond gates of pearl streets of gold I expect some time to understand better than I do now and dear reader you will be there too if only your name is in the book of life (xxi, 27 Luke x, 20)

PLAN BIG SCIENCE MEETING

New York, Dec. 16.—The knowledge acquired by thousands of men of science toiling in every field of human interest will be placed before the public during the Christmas holidays. For five days, beginning December 26, the members of the American association for the Advancement of Science, a body which includes nearly 10,000 of the foremost scholars of the United States, will hold its annual convention in this city. In conjunction with the convention of the parent organization there will be meetings of a score or more of affiliated scienitific bodies. At these meetings the leaders in their respective fields of science will deal with the latest discoveries, developments and theories in botany, mdicine, mathematics, astronomy, economics, etc.

It is announced that the coming gathering will probably prove the largest and most important scientific meeting ever held in America or elsewhere. The program announces addresses by 500 specialists in various fields. Their subject matter will be equivalent to a dozen university educations compressed into five days.

The American Association for the advancement of science is one of the oldest scientific organizations in the country. It was formed in Philadelphia in 1840 by a few geologists and neutralists. There were then 150 members. In recent years the scope of the association has been extended to embrace practically all fields of science.

A LETTER

The Progress,
Clearfield, Pa.
Gentlemen:

Returning from the mountains, the tenderfoot editor, as referred to in the sisue of the 14th, notices that he was the subject of an item of news telling of the spike that got away because there was no shell in the gun barrel. We wil close this indictment with an acknowledgement of guilt and throw ourselves on the mercy of the court of hunters and having seen a like case this season we know just what the punishment will be and stand humbly bowed to the east to receive our punishment in the west.

In retaliation, however, permit us to add that we know a certain pot hunter who has had journalistic aspirations for several years, who was so dern sure he would get a buck that he auth 'zed publication of a statement th: he already had one. The hunting s son is over; the 'orn of the 'unter s no longer 'eard in the 'ills and the pseudo hunter-editor has not even seen a spike yet.

TH T TENDERFOOT EDITOR.

HUNTED GAS LEAK WITH A MATCH AND FOUND IT

Resultant Explosion Wrecked Building, Stock and People in Stores Affected

THREE DAMAGE SUITS PENDING

On March 11, 1916, gas was discovered leaking in the cellar of the building at the corner of Long avenue and Main street, DuBois. The building contained several store rooms and the tenants promptly notified the landlord, A. P. Way. Mr. Way in turn called up the plumbing establishment of E. M. Webster & Co. and asked them to send a plumber down to repair the leak. The plumber went down to the cellar and still hunted th leak with a match. It is needless to add that he found it. The resultant explosion blew out the front of the building and raised the devil generally with the interior and the persons therein.

The first department and several physicians immediately rushed to the rescue and assisted in putting the fire out and repairing the physical damage.

The building was promptly restored to its previous condition of wellbeing and then owner Way brought suit against Webster & Co. for $6,000 damages, alleging that the wreck and subsequent loss was due entirely to the gross neglect and carelessness of the employe of the plumbing establishment. This suit is on the trial list for next week's court.

This morning James A. Gleason, Esq., filed a suit with Prothonotary against E. W. Wesbter & Co., on behalf of Charles Martin, of the firm of Green & Martin, one of the tenants in the damaged building, in which Mr. Martin seeks to recover $5.000 damages for shock and personal injuries received in the explosion, which wrecked the building and demolished his store.

At the same time Mr. Gleason also filed a similar suit on behalf of L. M. McIntosh, who also occupied a room in the building, as an ice cream parlor and confectionary store. In this suit $3,000 damages are asked for because of destruction of fixtures and because of loss incident to three month's loss of business while waiting for repairs to the building.

LIFE INSURANCE IN ITS RELATION TO BOOZE

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company was born and brought up in Milwaukee among the Brewers, leaving that class alone. Undoubtedly the Northwestern has more insurance in the state of Wisconsin than any other three companies put together, and is popular the world over. It is the largest American Life Insurance Company in the world.

This company only write insurance no a select class of men in the healthful part of the United States and does not write insurance on the lives of men handling liquor in any capacity. Wholesale or retail, not even a brewer or anyone connected with a brewery.

This company would be very apt indeed to turn the man down who is in the habit of "Setting them up".

It is believed by many that it will soon become the largest Life Insurance company in the world.

He faces the inevitable with that indomnitable courage and fighting spirit which has characterized the man through life and after a tearful farewell to his loved ones expressed himself as being not afraid and willing to go if it was the will of the Master.

BRANDON HOME AT CHESTER HILL REAL "FENCE"

County Detective Jeffries Unearths Wagon Load of Loot and Makes Arrests

HEARINGS BEING HELD TODAY

Following the arrest of Willis Brandon and his sister Luella and David Bryant at Chester Hill, charged with the stealing of Walter McKendish's cow, mention of which was made in the Progress at the time, the authorities about Philipsburg started an investigation which led them to believe that the Brandons and their gang knew something regarding the many jobs of stealing that had been pulled off in that section the past year.

District Attorney Welch was apprised of these suspicions and he directed County Detective Jeffries to make an investigation. With his usual thoroughness the county detective went to work and soon had a mass of evidence against the Brandons and several alleged accomplices.

A search of the Brandon home in Chester Hill revealed the fact that it was a veritable "fence" for the reception of stolen goods, as the officers discovered more than an auto truck load of plunder concealed about the premises. The goods found consisted of carbide, dynamite, percussion caps, clothing, revolvers, safety razors and many other articles stolen from different places in that neighborhood the past several months.

The county detective and Secretary Green of the Philipsburg Chamber of Commerce went before Squire Duncan in Chester Hill and had warrants issued for Willis, Albert and Luella Brandon, Harry Davis and David Bryant and the five prisoners were given a hearing before Justice Finnegan this afternoon and were sent to jail in default of bail for February tefm of criminal court.

Davis and Brandons live in Clearfield county while Bryant lives in South Philipsburg.

RAISE FOR GLASS WORKERS

Eight thousand workmen employed in the company's plants in Pennsylvania, Indiana and several other States are benefited by the raise.

Begins to Look Like Real Peace Move on Part of Central Powers

Count Von Bernstorff Notifies Secretary of State Lansing, That Kaiser is Ready to Submit Terms to a Conference

Washington, Dec. 16 —(By United Press) Germany stands ready to give the allies a full statement with regard to terms of a peace conference is held. This statement was made officially by County von Bernsdorff following a visit to Secretary of State Lansing today Bernsdorff may be told not know officially that these terms are, but that they would be given freely to the Entente powers at any conference to be held. At this time Germany is also ready to discuss disarmament and all other subjects kindred to peace which may arise in the conference, Bernsdorff stated. He spoke of this country's intention not to add a suppliment to the Germany proposal at this time. While Bernsdorff refused to talk of this government's plans German authorities here are not discouraged in any way by the fact that America will not offer a suggestion. "President Wilson has left the way open" and hence we are encouraged by the act.

The British embassy has advised the foreign office that the return of a flat refusal to Germany's peace proposal will alter neutral opinion, it was learned. It was also stated that the Russian and French embassies also forwarded the same advice to their foreign offices.

A MONSTER APPEAL

When the Pardon Board meets on Wednesday of next week to take up the appeal for a hearing in the cases of Henry Ward Mottarn and Ernest Haines, the two Jefferson county lads condemned to die during the week of January 22nd, for the murder of young Haines' father, it will be flooded with petitions from prominent men and women all over the state. It is believed that these earnest petitions will have weight with the board and that a hearing will be granted. With the rehearing granted it is to be hoped that the board will proceed to recommend that a commutation of sentence be granted. It would be a blot on the fair name of the state to exact the penalty imposed by law in these cases. There is no question in regard to the guilt of the boys; in fact one acknowledged that he committed the deed. It is their youth and proven record mentality that call for the granting of the commutation. It would not be of any value to society to send these boys to the chair. In fact it would prove an injury. Throughout this section, so near to the scene of the crime, there exists a feeling that the board should show mercy, and that the punishment would be sufficiently severe if the sentences were commuted to life imprisonment. —DuBois Courier.

OUR DUTY TO BELGIUM

At a time when millions are being spent for seasonal exchange of good will, and when the usual wassail and good cheer in our easygoing and extravagant American manner will amount to millions more, it is certainly worth while for us to look into our debt account with suffering Belgium. We have done so little there, as a matter of hard fact, that it is about time we looked the situation in the face, especially now that the slave-raid policy of Germany is likely to make the whole question of relief a very complicated one, and, as a result, is likely also to check the somewhat small driblets of aid that have been coming from this side.

In view of the hideous situation the great indignation meeting in New York yesterday was the least we could do to voice our moral reprobation of what the principal speaker, James M. Beck, caled the "damnable infamy" that is perpetrating "the slow murder of a great and noble people." But, in addition to this expresion of our horror of Germany's crime against humanity, we should not forget in these pre-Cshistmas days that out of a total of $1,000,000 spent for Belgian relief we have contributed only $10,000,000, thought out of the general Belgian fund the foreign relief commitee spent $125,000,000 in this country for Belgian supplies, conditioning a part of that export trade prosperity upon which we have been priding ourselves.

It is true that American women here and in Europe have sacrificed much, and American men, such as Mr. Hoover and his associates, acting as distributors of the Belgian relief, have done much more individually; but as we read of the unparalleled sufferings of Belgium these wintry days, we should not forget that we still owe its people something more than a mere word of sympathy, if we do our duty by them, as we should. And the sympathy should be of the pocket-touching kind.—Public Ledger.

SAYS BODY IS A POISON FACTORY

Urges Everyone to Drink Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentaary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomain-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

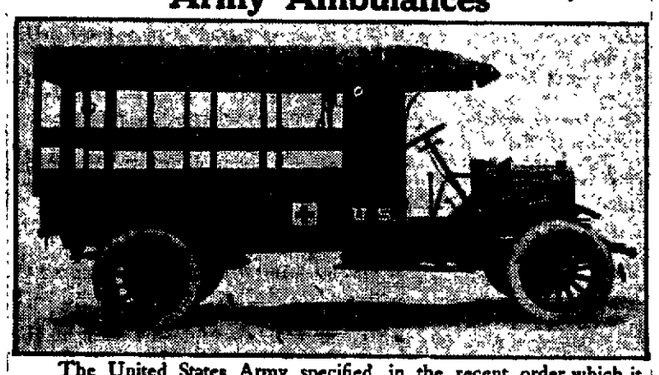
Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

Five thousand dollars spent in five years for civic improvement is the record of the Woman's Commercial club of Beloit, Kas., an organization of fewer than 200 women in a town of less than 3500 population.

United States Tires on United States Army Ambulances



The United States Army specified, in the recent order which it placed with the Service Motor Truck Company of Indiana for a fleet of twenty-five ambulances, the use of United States Tires on all four wheels. Most of these ambulances will go into active service along the Mexican border where United States Tires have already made a record for themselves in the various branches of the Army.

Queries and Replies Covering Matters of Importance To the Man Who Runs a Car.

By what test can I determine whether there is a current passing to my batteries without the aid of an ammeter, and when the ammater is not working how can I determine whether the trouble is in the ammeter or whether it is because there is no current passing through it or whether the generator is doing its work or not?

Disconnect one of the wires and make and break the circuit with it; if a spark is noticed on the break current is flowing. This test may be used on all sorts of electrical circuits, even on a single worn out dry cell. If the system has a cut-out and it works properly current is flowing.

You can determine whether current is flowing or not by the method just described. If current is flowing the trouble must be in the ammeter. If the defect is internal the instrument must be returned to the manufacturer, but sometimes the trouble is simply a broken or loose connection or a stuck hand. In the latter case tapping the instrument may cure the defect.

Can you tell me if there is any injurious effect of gum camphor on a motor?

Very little is known on this subject, but the general opinion is that it does not give any increase in power and, further, has a tendency to carbonize the motor.

My car has developed a grinding noise that sounds a little like engaging gears without the clutch pedal being depressed. I have had the mechanic at the service station work on it after I had tried, but gained nothing. The noise is only made while running at eight and seventeen miles per hour. There is no noise when the engine is idling, as far as I can learn. I have adjusted the starter chain many times and am satisfied that the trouble is not there. Could it be a timing gear loose or the clutch shaft bearing worn?

It seems likely that the spigot bushing in the gear box is worn. If this is true a new gear and shaft in which the bushing is mounted must be obtained. There is also the possibility that the noise is carried forward from the rear end. The axle shafts may be loose or a wheel may be a little bit wabbly.

When running at the rate of about eighteen or nineteen miles an hour the transmission of my car makes a grinding noise as though it does not mesh correctly, but when running below or over that speed the noise stops. Can you tell me what causes this?

See that all the gear set bearings are tight; this may be determined by grasping the shafts in the hand and shaking them. Be sure that there is plenty of grease in the gear box. Finally, if you find nothing out of order in the gear box, look elsewhere, because the sound may travel from one part to another.

Will you please explain the difference between single, dual, two spark, double and duplex ignition?

Single ignition means that there is but one source of current supply, either dry cells, storage battery or magneto. Dual ignition embodies two current sources, such as magneto and dry cells, but only one set of spark plugs. Two spark ignition means that there are two spark plugs, operating simultaneously in each cylinder. Double ignition consists of two entirely independent ignition sets so that the complete removal of one would not interfere with the operation of the other. The commonest example is the high tension magneto and a battery ignition outfit, each supplying its own set of plugs. Two magnetos or two battery ignition systems with individual sources of energy would also come within the definition. Duplex ignition is a special form of dual; it comprises a magneto for running, with a battery as an aid just for starting. It is designed especially for very heavy automobiles and marine motors where the cranking speed is too slow for the generation of a spark by the magneto. This battery system is not intended for continuous operation.

Can you give me a recipe for making rim paint to keep the tires from sticking to them?

Paint the rims with a paste made by mixing graphite with gasoline.

What is the maximum pressure in cylinders, compression sixty-five pounds? What per cent would we gain if we doubled the compression without any increase in gas or mixture?

Undoubtedly you mean the maximum explosion pressure, which might be as much as 450 pounds, although this would vary with conditions. Doubling the compression pressure would also approximately double the explosion pressure. Your question is a purely academic one, as you must realize that in actual practice doubling the compression would cause preignition. In other words, before the compression had reached its maximum the intense heat generated by the high pressure would be sufficient to precipitate combustion. Thus this compression could not be used unless the motor was supplied with a fuel injector instead of a carburetor, in which case the combustion could not start until the fuel was brought into contact with the air.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney reginon, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours tongue is coated and when the wather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

BIKERS READY FOR SIX-DAY GRIND

New York, Dec. 16.—Just one minute after the mystic hour of twelve tomorrow night, a pistol shot will start a dozen sturdy-limbed cycle racers on their six-day grind around the steep oval saucer track in Madison Square garden. It will be the 24th annual renewal of New York's big cycling event and from present indications it is likely to equal any of its predecessors in the matter of speed and thrills.

The field this year includes nearly all of the familiar old heroes of the six-day races, with a sufficient number of newcomers to add an element of uncertainty to the results. Picked as the favorite team are Grenda and Goullet, who won this year's event at Boston and also pulled down first money in the New York contest of three years ago. Other contestants whose names are familiar to all patrons of the sport will include Walthour, Noren, Root McNamara, Wiley, Lawson, Kaiserf, Cameron, Drebach, Egg and Ohrt.

The prizes this year are the richest ever offered for the six-day event. States worth $15,000 will be distributed. The winning team will get $5,000, the second team $3,000, third money will be $2,000, and the remainder will take the form of special prizes for sprints of one to ten miles during the progress of the race. In addition to prizes some of the riders are paid bonuses and, taking it all in all, it will be a very profitable week for them.

"BEHIND THE LINES"

Harry Carey will make this third appearance as a Bluebird star in "Behind the Lines," a military drama, to be exhibited at the Opera House tonight with Edison Johnson supporting him as leading lady of a numerous company Mr Carey's work in "The Three Godfathers" and "Love's Lariat" earlier Bluebirds will be well remembered; but in "Behind the Lines" he discards "schaps" and spurs to assume the role of an Army surgeon who falls in love with his head nurse and complicates matters to a serious degree Apart from the gripping interest the love story involves, the stirring encounters between cavalry forces, massed attacks by large bodies of infantry and the many scenes incident to martial times will provide elements of excitement and sensationalism to thrill the spectator while Cupid is waging a less strenuous warfare "Behind the Lines"

Rev Joseph Lorimer lives alone in the rectory with his sexton, Samuel He has never stopped mourning the death of his fiancee One night when he was offering up his accustomed prayer for her, a woman looks in the window of the rectory. When she sees the minister in prayer she vanishes. A few moments later the minister goes to the door On the porch is a bundle containing a small girl baby The minister and Samuel care for the baby with the assistance of Liza, a colored mammy

The next day, the body of the baby's mother was found on the beach. The minister christens the baby, naming for "Margery" after his dead love and "Annan' from the body of water in which her mother was found

In the parish there is only one person who looks upon the minister's act with sympathy This is Miss Darrell, a wealthy spinster She offers her fortune that the girl might be brought up properly Margery acquires a good education The minister sends her to a professor of French, Leon Caussidiere This man is in reality a gambler and a crook, who has been mixed up in a shooting affaffir In getting away he wounds a man, who swears revenge

Bob Saunders, a young fellow who lives in the same town, of good family and some talent as a painter, is in love with Margery But when he proposes she refuses him Leon pays a visit to the town His attentions to Margery are disapproved of by both the minister and Miss Darrell Indignant to think that a stranger interferes, Leon goes to Miss Darrell's house While waiting, he takes a letter from a private desk This reveals that Miss Darrell is Margery's mother. Leon again approaches Miss Darrell, extorts money and forces her to keep silent. Margery elopes with Leon. Bob Saunders goes to Miss Darrell to break the news. Hysterically she confesses to the minister and Bob. Leon enters upon a dbauch Margery is neglected In a poker game one night Leon again comes face to face with the man he had shot in a previous affair. He makes his escape but is followed by a band of enraged men who surround him on the top of a mountain after a long chase. He is thrown over the side and dashed to pieces on the rock below. Margery, ignorant of his death, writes to the minister and asks him to take her back When the news of Leon's death is broken to her, Margery turns to her mother. All the love in her nature is lavished upon the woman who has sacrificed everything in life for her. Later Margery marries Bob.

WHAT "THE MOST BEAUTIFUL AMERICAN" THINKS OF NIGHT LIFE IN A CABARET

Mrs Leonard M. Thomas, of New York and Newport, described as "the most beautiful American" has blossomed forth as a poet of no mean ability, and in her first book, just published, she tells what she thinks of night life in a cabaret. One piece of verse, "Thoughts After an Hour Spent in a Cabaret," contains this.

I have invited you
To dance.
Oh, listen to the music
Swell and prance
Amidst the wattled glamour
of disease
That roars and rattles
Like a can of peas.
Come! Come! my blonde,
And hold me very tight,
So that I'm sure your sense
is very faint and light,
Then we will jog together,
Thigh to thigh,
Until the floor splits
And the air is high
With mouldy powder
And with fetid wine,
Until my breath is yours
And your breath mine

Life's a madhouse
Where we reel and prance
And—I—I have invited you
To dance

Lesson XII.—Fourth Quarter, For Dec. 17. 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Rev. xxi, 1-4, 22-27—Memory Verses, 3, 4—Golden Text, Rev. xxi, 3—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The topic of this lesson is "The Holy City," but only the first two verses and the last verses refer to the city Verses 3 and 4 refer to this earth when it shall be a New Earth wherein dwelleth righteousness (verse 1; II Pet. iii, 13, Isa. lxv, 17, lxvi, 22). Only in these four passages do we read of the new earth, and it is possible that the passages in Isaiah refer to the millennial earth when the devil shall be bound in the bottomless pit for a thousand years (Rev. xx, 1-6), while the other two may refer to the ages beyond the millennium.

The time will come when this earth, so long cursed by sin and Satan, shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, and the nations shall learn war no more (Num. xiv, 21; Isa. ii 4; xi, 9, Hab. ii, 14; Mic. iv, 3). A king shall reign in righteousness, and the result will be peace, quietness and assurance forever (Isa. xxxii, 1, 17). The way in which God will bring this all to pass it so plainly written that only those who refuse to believe that God means what He says can fail to understand it. Following the letters to the churches of last week's lesson, we see in chapters iv and v the completed church gone from the earth to be with Christ in glory, and we do not find the church again in the book till we come to the marriage of the Lamb in chapter xix and then the return of Christ in glory, as the rider upon the white horse, accompanied by all the armies in heaven, to bind the devil, send his associates to the lake of fire and set up His millennial kingdom of righteousness.

The church being taken away, we have in chapters vi to xviii, inclusive, an account of the great day of the wrath of the Lord, of which the prophets have so much to say—the time of tribulation such as never was and never will be again (Dan. xii, 1; Jer. xxx, 7; Matt. xxiv, 21; Rev. xvi, 18, 19), which the Lord shall put an end to by His coming in glory. In those days the nations shall gather under one leader against the Lord and against His people Israel (Rev. xiii, 4-8; xvii, 12-14), and this leader shall be worshiped by all the world, all whose names are not in the book of life, and he shall be the devil incarnate, the antichrist No such person is yet in sight, and there is as yet no nation of Israel against whom they will gather, but many things may develop from the present European conflict.

After the church shall have been taken and the tribulation begun a great multitude from all nations shall be saved who are said to come out of the great tribulation (Rev. vii, 14, R V.). Many of these may have to seal their testimony with their blood. Then in chapters vii, 1-8; xiv, 1-5, we read of 144,000 of the twelve tribes of Israel who are neither the church of chapters iv and v nor the tribulation saints of chapter vii, but just what they are said to be—sealed ones of the tribes of Israel who will have their own place in the kingdom. By the judgments of the tribulation period this great age shall close and a new age begin, with Jesus Christ as Israel's Messiah on the throne of David, as we shall see in our next lesson. Then He shall begin His reign, which has not yet begun, for He is on His Father's throne, waiting for the time when He shall come to His own throne and reign till He shall have put all enemies under His feet. The last enemy to be destroyed will be death (Rev iii 21; I Cor. xv, 25, 26).

From Isa. lxv, 20,22, it looks as if there would be death during the millennium, but not as now, for one dying then at the age of 100 will be said to die in childhood, and many may live right through, but in the new earth after the thousand years, when the tabernacle of God shall be with men and He shall be as familiar with men on earth as He was with Adam and Eve in Eden, then on this earth there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain, and there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it, and His servants shall serve Him" (chapters xxi, 3, 4, xxii, 3-5)

Now, as to the holy city, the new Jerusalem the bride, the Lamb's wife, which shall need no light of sun or moon, because the glory of God and the Lamb shall be the light of it and in the light of which the saved nations of earth shall walk and shall bring their glory and honor into it (xxi 2, 9-11 22-26). I can only gaze and gaze and wonder and adore until I shall find myself dwelling in it as my eternal home It is described as to its form a perfect cube, 1500 miles long and broad and high (verse 16), reminding us of the holy of holies in the tabernacle and in the temple each of which was a perfect cube in form and in which there was no light but the glory of God above the mercy seat between the cherubim What may be signified by foundations garnished with all manner of precious stones walls of diamond gates of pearl streets of gold I expect some time to understand better than I do now and dear reader you will be there too if only your name is in the book of life (xxi, 27 Luke x, 20)
